The Truth Will Set You Free Jan 31st, 2008 by Brenda Now he who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food will also supply and increase your store of seed and will enlarge the harvest of your righteousness (2 Corinthians 9:10). Now a slave has no permanent place in the family, but a son belongs to it forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed (John 8:35-36 NIV). Word of the Day You are My friend and My great love. This is the truth and truth will set

another little how-to

on friday evening, after the philly etsy team's monthly meeting, i decided it was time to make a new set of thank you cards to send out with girlscontell shop purchases. i was trying to think of something a little different and fun to do for them, something that would use materials i had on hand, and preferably re-use some bits of things i might have otherwise discarded. i settled on a technique i've not employed since college (ahhh, studio), but that i always thought yielded pretty nice res

I Just Came Undone

She was truly a beauty, and young, and sweet, almost certainly a college student there in Tampa. There we were, her and I, a small room, a massage parlor, 1974. She got my clothes undone, and some of her own. She proceeded to patiently and lovingly give me one of the very few orgasms I've ever had from oral sex; this girl hung in with me, and hung in with me, and hung in with me some more, she gently and carefully worked me over until I just came undone. An amazing experience, very powerful. She

February 26 - Keesler Field

These letters home were written during World War II by Jack Woodward to Elizabeth Proctor, the woman he left behind.

7:45 pm Elizabeth dearest: I got your very nice letter in the late mail today. I read it and re-read it. I believe you now have a letter in your hand which will definitely straighten out the brown eyes situation. I can just visualize those soft brown eyes right now. (Sigh.) Why are you just getting to bed at 1:15 am? Did you have to work? or did you??? Well, darling, I

I miss you like hell over here...I miss how smelly you are and how incredibly lame you can get.I miss how you get really mad at me and yell the eyeballs out of my ear drums just because you love me. I miss how we go nuts about eating and watching movies.I miss how you always give me the indifferent look and say 'so?' just to irritate the bile out of me.I miss how I can always be a stupid disgusting baby and you layan me all the time. I miss how you asked me to stay silent for a while to lis
